

Jeremy C. Garlington

Jeremy C. Garlington is an executive consultant and managing partner of Atlanta-based Point of View, LLC, www.pointofviewllc.com a leadership consultancy that specializes in branding during times of change and transition. Jeremy has counseled CEOs in transition; professionals interested in expanding their career portfolios, political figures looking to return to civilian life and executives bent on moving into completely different fields. The outcome is a path, an inspired vision, a better professional life, or simply, a new way of looking at things.

These results have produced valuable perspective, gained through client work, corporate experience and Garlington's own entrepreneurial transformation, all of which inform a practice focused exclusively on shaping new narratives and providing actionable advice during times of change. Consultancy services include personal/leadership branding or rebranding, advice, bio/resume writing, thought leadership guidance and re-positioning strategies provided to those who want to articulate a new vision through a cogent point of view.

Established in 2003, Point of View, LLC came into existence at a time when many were first trying to grasp personal branding's role in executive transition. Jeremy's own point of view has been cited extensively via "The Garlington Report (TGR)," which can be found at www.povblogger.blogspot.com. He has written extensively for publication, on behalf of others and is a regular contributor to "The Saporta Report.": <http://saportareport.com/responding-trump-count-one-two-three-breathe>.
